

home alone, again?

Take Back Your Time Day
October 24th

I've got a bone to pick. I never see my companion human anymore. She leaves for work before I wake up and by the time she gets home she's always dog tired. Sure, she hires one of those professional doggie walkers to take me around the neighborhood now and again, but it's just not the same.

The truth: overworked americans are neglecting and abandoning their pets in record numbers.

JOIN THE MOVEMENT!

www.timeday.org